TESTIMONIALS

"The Bespoke Design & Print Service from Evans gave me a point of difference when creating my schemes for Sevenoaks - Care UK. Working with the textile designer Beth, I was able to make the properties unique, slightly quirky and enhance the quality of living whilst also ensuring the designs were dementia friendly. We were able to make the rooms functional yet homely by designing reversible throws and cushions, & unique imagery within the fabric was used in themed destination points - All in all the service was easy to use & the finished product created a warm and positive atmosphere within the home."

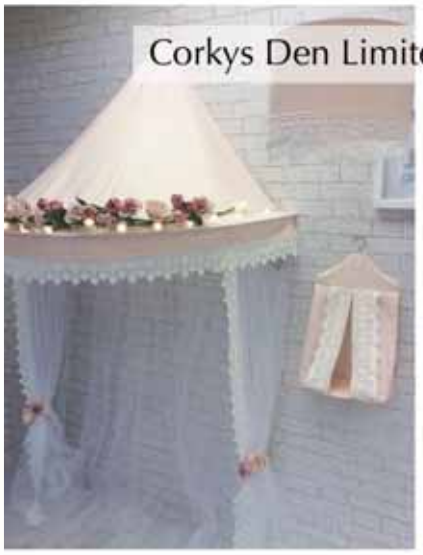
TESTIMONIALS



"At Corkys Den we create beautiful, handmade, personalised teepees for children. With the company expanding and a limited amount of children's fabric in the UK market, I started to work with Evans Textiles to create my own bespoke range of fabrics. I started with a brief for three designs and I now have a range of ten different bespoke designs in various colourways. The process of working with the designer from initial concept to final design was really smooth, and overall the service was fantastic from start to finish. I am now able to offer a complete bespoke service to my customers' thanks to Evans Textiles."

"I first got in touch with Evans Textiles about their bespoke design and contract print service because the fabric a client had specified had been discontinued. I sent the designer at Evans a sample of the fabric and she was able to create a similar design in the same colourway. I was really pleased with the process and final product, therefore I have continued to use the service. Most recently we created a completely bespoke stand for an exhibition in London complete with our logo on curtain fabric and matching artwork on upholstery fabric."

INTERIOR DESIGN & FABRICS EVANS TEXTILES

DESIGNED TO PLEASE

IN THE PAST, DEMENTIA CARE HOMES WERE OFTEN FUNCTIONAL, YET UN-INSPIRING WITH REGARDS TO AESTHETIC DESIGN. SINCE THEN, PSYCHOLOGISTS HAVE PROVED A WELL-DESIGNED, POSITIVE AND WARM LIVING ENVIRONMENT CAN IMPROVE RESIDENTS' MENTAL WELL-BEING AND LEAD TO IMPROVED HEALTH. BETHANY CALLAN, LEAD DESIGNER AT EVANS TEXTILES, ASKS HOW CAN COLOUR AND PATTERN BE USED AS A THERAPEUTIC TOOL WITHIN A DEMENTIA CARE HOME?

There is plenty of research on colour psychology, for example, red stimulates physical reactions such as rising blood pressure, whereas blue is essentially soothing for the mind. However, there is little research on how colour and pattern used together can actually enhance the lives of residents living with dementia.

Bold and busy patterns can cause confusion and be perceived as moving objects, nonetheless, the right pattern in the right colours can actually help residents with their perception of objects, and unique imagery within design may engage childhood memories by linking to familiar places.

"The Bespoke Design & Print Service from Evans gave me a point of difference when creating my schemes for Care UK's Weald Heights care home in Sevenoaks. Working with the Head Designer Beth, I was able to make the properties unique, slightly quirky and enhance the quality of living while also ensuring the designs were dementia friendly. We were able to make the rooms functional yet homely by designing reversible throws and cushions, and unique imagery within the fabric was used in themed destination points. All in all the service was easy to use and the finished product created a warm and positive atmosphere within the home." Diana Celella Director & Interior Designer at Drawing Room Interiors.

Triggering those dormant emotions and memories through visual art and design can inspire conversations between residents who may usually struggle to express themselves.

At Evans Textiles we are passionate about promoting wellness by creating physical surroundings that are psychologically supportive. Our head bespoke designer is accredited by the Society of British International Design and is knowledgeable in using art and design as a therapeutic tool to create flame retardant fabrics for curtains, bedding, cushions and upholstery. We will ensure you get the exact bespoke design, colour way and contract fabric base within budget.
